On the 26th November, 1898, at Trinity Cathe dral, Shanghai, by the Rev. H. C. Hodges, M.A. FREDERICK, eldest son of Frederick DUMFRIES, of Brighton, to EDITH, eldest daughter of John F. MAGRAE, M.D., of Brighton.

Hongkong, December 3rd 1898. THE determination of the United States to retain the Philippines renders the early laying a telegraph cable across the Pacific a certainty. A Washington press despatch of the 19th November states that the United | States representatives on the Peace Commission sitting at Paris had been instructed to acquire one of the Caroline Islands by purchase from Spain, to be used as an intermediary station for the Pacific cable, and goes on to lay down the proposed route the cable, namely, from Hongkong to the northern part of the Philippines, thence to one of the islands in the northern Caroline Group, thence to the Hawaiian Islands, and thence to the United States. As there is already a cable from Hongkong to Manila it hardly seems probable that the United States should wish to lay another on that section. There are, moreover, agreements in existence which place restrictions on the landing of cables in Hongkong, the Eastern Extension Company being possessed of what is virtually an exclusive privilege. Possibly however, that Company may be entrusted with the work of laying the American cable across the Pacific and an agreement may be entered into regarding the future operation of in May, to $5.05 in October, and the profit for the line, in which case probably no difficulty would be raised as to the landing of the best returns comparatively have been from the cable in Hongkong, should it be decided to continue it to this point; but if the new line threatened opposition presumably the Company now in possession would stand upon its rights. At the half yearly meeting of the they have now disappeared, and a fresh orep of Company held on the 26th October the Chairman, the Marquis of TweedDale, said he had on more than one occasion referred to the probability of the establishment of occupation of the Philippines by the United efforts having that object in view, but, as well, many of the plants being 2 to 3 feet high.

there will be a considerable cheapening of the rates at present in force between the points to be served by the new line, which will, induce a more than proportionate increase of traffic. One of the effects may be, by welcoming the American enterprise there is, however, one cause for regret, namely, that kong and Canada, and to some extent the laying of the projected cable between Canada and Australia may also be discouraged, for with an American line niready touching at Honolulu the commercial prospects of the British cable would be projudiced to the extent of the loss of the Hawaiian traffic.

Monila, 27th November. The arrival of the transports Arisma and Ohio with two thousand odd men from the States has last three days. NEWS OF THE INSURGENTS. The argument between General Otis and General Aguinaldo is still going on. The hone of contention is the release of the Spanish givil and clorical prisoners. It is well known that the priesthood of America through its representatives here is doing all that lies in its power to liberate the imprisoned brothren. . On the subject some letters have passed between the two Generals. The last document sent by the insurgent leader handles the subject in a very able manner, and is not without some little touches of what may be construed to be sarcasin. the letter to which this is a reply has not come to my notice I am unable to judge fairly, but the insurgent loader's letter argues well. argues from the basis of statements made by General Otis as follows:-"You say in your letter that mere employée of any Government may not be made prisoners of war unless they are actively serving against the enemy either in arms or diplomatically, and I (Aguinaldo) am propared, not to say pleased, to take the dictum of such a competent authority as yourself, and on this alone rest my remarks for keeping [prisoners both the civil and religious servants of Spain now in the hands of the Revolutionary Government." quotes from other letters wherein showed how all civil employes and religious orders had formed Volunteer Corps and waged active warfare against the Indians. He cites examples and montions particular oloricals as regular soldiers. The convents afforded the strongest forts to the Spanialds. Continuing, the leader says: "Will you aftor this still argue that I should not keep civi servants prisoners P'

Again, he investigates futornational law expounded by Martens and Bluntschli and treats of those exempt from imprisonment according to the Geneva Convention.

With regard to reprisals be says :- "During the American war of Independence the grea Washington ordered an English Colone Argigle, a prisoner of the Americans, to be sho in revenge for the shooting of an American Colonel by the English, and it was only due to the prayers of the Queen of France that the order

Further on he writes-" In the same way, General, when I said that we held prisoners for the purpose of forcing the Spaniards to set the Philippines they held at liberty, and to make the Vatican recognise the rights of the Philip pino clericals, I do not mean that we founded our claim to keep them prisoners on these reasons, but merely to indicate that if these things were brought to pass, it would then be a most opportune moment for us to set our prisoners s liberty, without going against the wishes of my people. I would be glad to see this change that I might prove to you what a lively sympathy I have with your wishes, with which for the present I am unable to comply." The letter ends with a polite tribute to the noble impulses and asgucity of the American General. The fact remains that Aguinalde found himself unable to comply with the wishes of General Otis for the present.

> DISASTROUS FIRES IN SHANGHAI THE STORE OF HALL & HOLTZ, LD.,

ENTIRELY -DESTROYED. Shanghai, 28th November. Saturday night witnessed no less than two ig fires in Shanghai, both of which were of the most serious and destructive character. Of these by far the most disastrous occurred on the premises of Hall & Holtz, Limited, and obtained such a hold and spread with such asionishing. rapidity that in less than an hour it was obvious that the entire blook was doomed together with the whole of its valuable contents. The fire was discovered at twenty-five minutes pas six, smoke being detected issuing from the furniture department, which is in close proximity to the kitchen, where it originated, access to which s gained by a narrow passage leading from the Szechnen Road. The slarm was at once given, but before againstance arrived the portion in question was well ablaze, and partly no doubt on account of the inflammable nature of the goods stored therein, wood, varnish, etc., gave every evi dence of developing into a dangerous conflagration. The fire brigade lost very little time in get ting the hydrante at work, but their task speedily assumed to most difficult aspect. The flames spread towards the front of the buildings in Nauking Road and seriously jospardised the adjoining tenement occupied by Mr. J. D. Clarke, proprietor of the Shanghai Mercury, and Mr. W. R. Kahler of the Temperance Union, to whom a portion of the is sublet. Large crowds collected in the streets and the police under Chief Inspector Howard had no little difficulty in keeping the throng from hampering the movements of the firemen. By seven o'clock the fire had assumed a firm hold of the entire upper floor and left no doubt as to the ultimate fate of the building. Fortunately a high wind which ruled in the morning had subsided and dropped into comparative insignificance, allaying all enxiety as to the safety of the premises on the opposite making it hard for large numbers of native side of Szechuen Road. At the same time the contiguity of the Mercury premises furnished that day and yesterday all the principal native dery Company. The bankrupt said also that grounds for the gravest fears, and the efforts banks refused to pay out any money. It is to Lord Ashburton paid him £50,000 for a quarter of the firemen were mainly directed towards | be feared that this will bring on more failures. checking a spread. An engine in Szechnen Road and the fire float at the Nanking Road jetty were rapidly got to work and good streams were poured on to the burning mass. from practically all sides. No effort however was made by anybody, wither in or out of authority, to salve any of the stock in the lower floor or basement and when some time later the galvanised iron roof fell in, carrying with it what remained of the second floor, the work of destruction was complete. Notwithstanding its comewhat imposing exterior the ravages of the flames disclosed the fact that the premises were anything but well built. The supports of the upper floor, instead of being steel or iron girders bearing a concrete bed, as one might have expected in the construction of such an important place of business, proved to be wooden beams and as a consequence it was a matter of impossibility save the basement. Had the outbreak occurred below, the upper floor would have been doomed by the same rule. Before nine p'clock the store was a wreck and although still barning fremen had obtained the mastery and effectually prevented an extension. The Meteury office suffered some appreciable damage, the compradore's room being burnt out, whilst a portion of the staircase was burnt and a large quantity of paper damaged by both fire and water. The adjacent store of Hung Choong, the well known silversmith and curio dealer, was also threatened but the canny proprietor with the perspicuity of his race lost no time in removing his wares to a place of enfety. A number of blunjackets from H. M. S. Phoenic landed and amisted him in the performance of this took besides aiding in the work of extinction. As we have already stated, it was most fortunate that the wind len no force to the flames or without doubt the houge and premises abutting from Kinking As it was, a window in Mesers. THE HONGRONG SHARE MARKET | good come The 40,000, and would probably cost very much more than that now. The damage Mr. J. Y. V. Vernon in his weekly share sustained at the Mercury office was incomsiderable. The unfortunate and fateful coincidence. of another serious fire raging in the Settlement at the same time played no small part in bringion about a total loss. As was natural the fu strength of the brigade was unavilable and led to some slight delay in getting the hose in position. The directors of Hall & Holtz, Limited, desire to tender their sincere thanks to the Fire Brigade and all who assisted in extinguishing the flames, and further intimale that the

About the same time a fire broke out in Albany gardens. It originated in a row of Chinese dwellings in Hankow Road, at the back of the Rev. C. J. F. S. Symons' house, Owing to the flimsy atructure of the Chinese buildings, the fire soonspread and threatened to be a serious configration. The French brigade was promptly on the spot and, essisted by the Salvage Corps, soon had the dames under control. In the meantime the foreigners living in Albany gardens were busily removing their belongings. Great praise to due to inspector Wilson and his staff for the energetic and able services they rendered. When the Chinese dwellings were gutted out, the ffremen, thinking all danger was over, advised the foreigners to let their chattels remain, assuring them all was said Unfortunately the flying sparks had cough the eaves of the Rev. Mr. Symons' roof and to the astonishment of everyone it suddenly burst out into flame and spread with amoring rapidity to the next two houses, occupied by Mr. Clayson, of the I. M. Customs, and Mr. Wallace, of the Bun Fire Insurance Co. The two streams were immediately brought to bear on this fresh development and by 10.80 the firemen had nothing but smouldering roins to cope with. A remarkable feature of the fire is that the servants' dwellings which separated the Chinese from the foreign houses are untouched, although the conflagration raged fleroely within a few feet at back and front.
